Dear Harold,

I include this at the last minute--not being able to get stamps has terribly delayed this package of letters to you. In the meantime, I got back an interesting roll of pictures. Enclosed are four of interest to you. I can get you copies but these must be returned to me immediately.

The first shows a real size model of the human skull with a hole 100mm. above and 2.5cm. to the right of the EOP. I know you'd be interested in this one so tell me if you want a copy.

The second is the best one of the shirt slits I made.

The other two are just some of a whole batch of other similar ones. The enclosed short memo should explain it, and just looking at them tells quite a story. There is one error in the position of the wound--it is a bit too far to the right. What do you think? These I will definately use in my book.

Again, please return soon as possible and tell me which you want.

Best wishes,

Harold
